Ponder Accelerated Pace In Training Ohio Teachers

COLUMBUS, May 16—Ohio's teacher shortage, heightened by wartime manpower losses and scarcely helped by the return of peace, was under attack on two fronts today, with many local school boards considering raising teachers' pay through special taxes and the state setting up temporary "cadet" certificates.

Dr. Clyde V. Hanson, state education director, announced today that the state would issue "cadet" certificates to teach in elementary schools by taking accelerated courses in the state's 30 teacher training colleges this summer, during the winter, and the following summer, thus getting the equivalent of two years' college work.

The certificates will have four-year terms and will be renewable as standard provisional certificates only if the holders complete 12 semester hours of further training during the four years.

Harold J. Bowers, supervisor of teacher certification, emphasized the measure would be in force only "until an adequate supply of teachers is available."

Bowers expressed hope the measure would double the crop of new grade school teachers available for the 1947-48 school year. He said the 25,000 high school graduates in 1946 expecting to enter college only 800 planned to become elementary teachers and 1,200 high school teachers.

A public hearing on the new certificate will be held here July 3. Meanwhile, a survey of the Ohio Education association showed at least a dozen city school boards definitely planned to ask their voters to approve extra levies in November to provide pay increases ranging from $100 to $444 a year to teachers.

The cities include Athens, Hamilton, Lima, Wilmington, and Zanesville.

RETURN TO WORK IN MINES GAINS

Bituminous Production Is Rising Slowly As Men Re-enter Pits

(By Associated Press)

Bituminous production climbed slowly upward today as another 35,000 striking soft coal miners returned to their jobs, under truce, in the last 24 hours.

Officials of the AFL-United Mine workers in Pittsburgh predicted a further reduction of the 93,000 men still idle.

In Kentucky yesterday, 5,000 went back into the pits. Three Ohio mines were back in production, leaving only three diggings employing 1,500 men still closed. Alabama, with 23,000 miners working and Indiana, with 8,000 were virtually back to normal.

Almost Back To Normal

UMW District 31 in West Virginia reported 150,000 tons dug yesterday, or only 10,000 tons less than an average day. Western Pennsylvania miners dug an estimated 150,000 to 154,000 tons, an increase over Tuesday's 143,000.

In Pennsylvania, two more Fayette county mines resumed work on the night shift, but the Keystone state had more than 50,000 men on the "not-working" lists today due to confusion over unemployment compensation benefits.

Their return to the pits was expected to be speeded by announcement of state officials that miners, working under the truce, could qualify for benefits without an additional waiting period, if the walk-out was to resume.

Black Market Sugar Ring Smashed By OPA Men

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, May 16—An ultra-violet ray, used by the OPA to detect counterfeit sugar stamps, threw light on allegedly illegal sugar transactions in three states and put ten men under federal grand jury indictment today.

U. S. District Attorney Don C. Miller described the investigation and subsequent indictments as "the heaviest blow yet delivered against the sugar black market."

Involved in the transactions, extending through Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York, were more than 250,000 pounds of sugar and 43,440 fraudulent sugar stamps, said Assistant District Attorney Fred H. Mandel.

The investigation stemmed from the discovery of a quantity of counterfeit stamps examined by the OPA verification center with a device using the ultra-violet ray.

Indicted were: Arthur Kerestey of near Darlington, Pa., described by Mandel as the "ring leader" and "an ex-convict with a long criminal record;" Paul J. Wald, 27, and William J. Barnes, 32, both of Youngstown; Morris Firman, an Erie, Pa. produce dealer; Leo S. Wardenga, an Erie baker; Ross Russo, Erie barber, and Marc A. Byrd, owner of the Saegerstown, Pa. Mineral Water Co.

Also indicted were three Clevelanders—Ignatius Sanson, 37, a partner in the firm of J. F. Sanson & Sons, Cleveland, and manager of its sugar department; Samuel Sheinbart, 32, president of the I. Sheinbart Milling Corp., Cleveland, and Benjamin S. Blaize, office manager for the Sheinbart concern.

Sanson was accused in two indictments of selling 32,200 pounds of sugar to Firman through side payments of $1 per 100-pound bag above the $6 wholesale ceiling price.

Sheinbart and Russo were charged in a conspiracy indictment with selling sugar at above-ceiling price to Byrd, using fraudulent stamps supplied by Russo.

Sheinbart was charged on five counts with selling 38,500 pounds of sugar above ceiling to Firman, in an individual indictment. Another conspiracy indictment accused Sheinbart and Blaize of selling 80,000 pounds to Firman at $2.75 over the $6 ceiling price, and charged that Firman and Russo resold this at greatly increased prices to Byrd, Wardenga and various merchants in Erie, Pa., and Dunkirk and Jamestown, N. Y.

The indictment against Kerestey, Wald and Barnes charged them with selling 130,500 pounds of sugar above ceilings, through use of 34,600 fraudulent stamps, from Nov. 1, 1945 to Feb. 14, 1946.

Mandel said Kerestey furnished the stamps to Wald, who delivered them to Barnes, manager of the Youngstown office of M. Rom & Sons Co. Inc., a Pittsburgh wholesale grocery firm. The assistant district attorney added that Barnes used fictitious names of various retail dealers in the Youngstown area to cover up the transactions.

Charges against the Erie and Cleveland defendants carry maximum penalties, upon conviction, of two years and $10,000 fine under conspiracy indictments, and one year and $5,000 on each count in the other indictments, Mandel said.

Charges against the three men from the Youngstown area carry maximum penalties, on conviction, of two years and $10,000 fine on conspiracy counts and one year and $5,000 on each of six other counts. Arraignment for all the defendants was set for May 29.

IDENTITY OF DEAD REMAINS QUESTIONABLE

Chartered Ship Plunges to Ground After Failure at Forced Landing

(By Associated Press)

RICHMOND, Va., May 16—Twenty-seven persons were killed today in the crash of a southbound chartered airliner which ran into trouble a few minutes after its takeoff from Byrd airport near Richmond and plunged into a rain-drenched stand of pine woods in a vain attempt to return to the field.

The twin-engine Viking airliner came to grief in the heavy overcast about 1:10 a. m., plowed through the trees and burned on the soggy banks of Doran creek only a few thousand yards from the airport.

The airliner left Newark, N. J., early last night for Atlanta. It put into Richmond and took off again about 12:30 a. m. in heavy weather. The ceiling at the airport was fluctuating between zero and 200 feet and visibility was one mile when she took off.

Contained 26

The CAA said the plane carried 24 passengers in addition to the pilot and co-pilot but 27 bodies were brought out of the woods from the crash and sent to five Richmond funeral homes. Identification was difficult but it appeared the victims were 21 men, three women and three children.

The pilot of the plane apparently was Dell Anderson. The CAA said the pilot reported himself as Anderson in contacts with its stations and in Los Angeles the airline said that if the ship was a Viking the pilot was David Miner, both of them of Los Angeles.

An airline official said normally the operation had been in transporting merchant seamen from the east coast to the Gulf coast.

This fitted in with an identification card found in a charred wallet giving the name "Frederick J. Spargo, ensign, U. S. Maritime Service." The card showed Spargo born October 9, 1924 but gave no address.

Another identification appeared to be that of Jose Matterendona Zambrini whose passport was found in an unburned pocket of his charred coat.

Still Unidentified

The nationality of those killed could not be immediately learned. But there was a Spanish prayerbook, bearing the name of a Madrid firm, and papers making reference to the maritime service in Yugoslavia in the wreckage.

Bodies of the victims were brought out by horse and wagon and sent to Richmond funeral homes.

The Byrd airport reported the weather for the station was an indefinite 200-foot ceiling with visibility one mile.

County Police Sergeant H. W. Henshaw went into the crash area and counted 24 bodies, 20 in the wreckage and four more on the ground near the charred airliner. Most of the bodies were badly burned, he said, and there was a possibility only one could be readily identified.

The southbound plane, a DC-3, left Newark, N. J., early last night. Police found a passport in an unburned pocket of a badly charred body bearing the name Jose Matterendona Zambrini. This, along with the muscular appearance of most of the bodies, led to the early belief the plane had been chartered by Mexican or other Latin American workers or athletes.

Richmond morticians set up a temporary morgue in the yard at the Whitlock farm.

B-17 Bomber Crashes On California Hillside

FAIRFIELD, Calif., May 16—An army B-17 with eight persons aboard crashed on a hillside about three miles west of here early today, possibly killing some of the occupants.

The pilot and co-pilot, both critically injured, got out of the bombing plane and telephoned Fourth Air force headquarters at nearby Hamilton field that six other persons, some of them still alive, were trapped in the plane.

LEWIS, O'NEILL CALLED FOR 5:30 WHITE HOUSE MEETING

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 16—President Truman announced today he had asked John L. Lewis and the coal operators to submit their deadlocked contract negotiations to arbitration.

Lewis and Charles O'Neill, official spokesman for the operators, will give their decision to Mr. Truman at 5:30 p. m. EST.

Mr. Truman announced his proposal to a hurriedly summoned news conference. He said Lewis and O'Neill both had agreed that their own efforts to settle the coal controversy had collapsed.

Announcement Follows Session

The announcement was made less than two hours after Mr. Truman conferred for 10 minutes with Lewis and O'Neill at the White House.

Mr. Truman said the two chief figures in the coal dispute had told him they felt after overnight conferences with their associates that the coal negotiations held up to now had broken down completely and that further discussion was useless.

It was then, Mr. Truman said, that he asked them to submit their differences to arbitration.

He said the country is in desperate straits as a result of the 42 days' shutdown of the mines prior to the two week truce which began last Monday.

The chief executive said coal must be gotten out of the ground and that the suffering which had followed the strike would increase if there was no settlement.

Neither Lewis nor O'Neill would discuss their morning conference with Mr. Truman.

Also attending the morning conference were Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach and Edward P. McGrady, the special government conciliator who yesterday recessed the contract negotiations indefinitely after the operators flatly rejected Lewis' No. 1 demand—for a seven per cent payroll levy to finance a miners' welfare fund. Operators calculate the levy would net the union $70,000,000 annually on the basis of last year's payrolls.

O'Neill told reporters only that he would return at 5:30 p. m. and made his way out of the White House offices.

No Comment

Lewis trailed along a moment later and said, "The magic number is 5:30."

Presses for a statement on what he would do until the hour for returning to the White House, Lewis stared long and hard at his questioner and then said:

"The whole situation gives one furiously to think."

He would say nothing more.

It was understood that the 250-man UMW policy committee which Lewis assembled in Washington a week ago and which had authorized a two week strike truce has returned home.

MIGHT AVERT RAIL STRIKE BY SEIZURES

Trainmen Hint that Action By Government Would Forestall Walkout

By JOHN B. OWEN

WASHINGTON, May 16—A hint from trainmen and engineers that federal seizure might forestall Saturday's scheduled nationwide railroad strike stirred wide speculation today.

President Truman has said he will not hesitate to take over the lines if that action becomes necessary.

The hint came in an announcement from Alvaney Johnston, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers that as a "safety measure" the big Illinois Central railroad—already under government control—had been removed tentatively from the list of carriers to be struck.

Johnston said the exemption decision was reached in conjunction with A. F. Whitney, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen who with the engineers have called the strike as the climax to a wage dispute.

One Seizure Ended Threat

The Illinois Central is under technical operation of the office of defense transportation as the result of a previous strike threat.

Johnston would neither affirm nor deny that this was the reason for the exemption, nor would he explain what he meant by "safety measure."

The Smith-Connally War Labor Disputes act, however, provides penalties for strike interference with the operation of any facility under government possession.

Johnston and Whitney scheduled a third meeting with the operators (10 a. m. EST) after two sessions which the union chiefs said were fruitless.

Mr. Truman brought about the resumption of negotiations after a series of White House conferences on Tuesday.

The other three operating brotherhoods were to meet with the carriers later. They are taking a strike vote which, can not become effective for some time. But a walkout of the trainmen and engineers alone would tie the rail transportation in knots. Fifteen non-operating rail unions also are seeking higher pay.

Both sides in the threatened strike are scheduled to report their progress to Mr. Truman tomorrow.

Wants To Be By Leper Wife's Side

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16—A tall, ruddy army officer, determined to spend the remaining years of his life by the side of his wife in a Carville, La. leprosarium, was undaunted today by unofficial word from Carville that his request probably would be denied.

This possible setback came as friends of 65-year-old Maj. Hans George Hornbostel, a veteran of two wars, pushed his petition in Washington.

Mrs. Hornbostel, 52, developed skin trouble while she and her husband, an army engineer, were prisoners of the Japanese at Santo Tomas in Manila. However, physicians at San Francisco hospital where she is in isolation believe she contracted the disease long before, probably while doing research with her husband among Polynesian peoples.

Major Hornbostel has no doubts about his decision to join his wife at the leper colony.

"I don't consider myself any martyr by asking to be with her as long as we both shall live," he said. "I'd be unhappy without her and she'd be unhappy without me, and that's all there is to it."

PRESBYTERY MEETS AT CHURCH DINNER

One hundred and fifteen men and women, representatives of 20 of the 43 churches in Mahoning Presbytery attended a dinner-meeting last night in the Presbyterian church held in the interest of the restoration work, sponsored by this denomination.

Clair Stewart of Columbus and Walter Schoggen, representatives of the Synod of Ohio and the Eastern area division of the restoration fund, respectively, were the speakers. Stewart showed a movie depicting conditions in Europe, Asia and Japan for which the restoration fund is being raised.

Att'y Paul L. Booth of Girard presented, Lee B. Vincent, of the local church, made the arrangements for the dinner.

In his mouth was a whole loaf of fresh bread.

1. Only one parcel per week may be sent by or on behalf of the same person or concern to or for the same addressee.
2. The weight of each parcel is limited to 11 pounds.
3. Contents are limited to non-perishable items which are not prohibited in the parcel-post mails.

Effective immediately, mail service to the two nations is extended to comprise all classes of regular mail while the weight limit of air mail articles is increased from two ounces to four pounds, six ounces.

Reflecting the gloomy mood prevailing at the Big Four foreign ministers' Paris conference, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes appear grim-faced as they ponder possibility of finding mutually agreeable basis for European peace treaties.

Big Four Session To Recess With Little Accomplished

By LOUIS NEVIN

PARIS, May 16—The foreign ministers of the Big Four, ready to take a 30-day recess for further study of the unsettled problems of peace, tackled the German question today in a last-minute effort to reach agreement on at least one issue.

U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, described by his associates as deeply discouraged by the failure of the conferees to reach any basic agreement during the three weeks of negotiations, was said to be convinced there was no other course except continued efforts to compromise the differences which have split the Western powers and Russia.

The ministers approved last night Byrnes' suggestion that the Council adjourn until June 15 and the conferees were ready to recess as soon as discussion of the German question is finished, probably today.

In recessing, the foreign ministers will leave unsettled the question of Austria, which the Russians flatly refused even to discuss. Trieste, which Britain and the United States insist must go to Italy while the Russians insist it must go to Yugoslavia; freedom of navigation on the Danube, which the Russians refuse to write into the Balkan peace treaties; and international freedom of commerce with Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

In the interim period from now until June 15 the foreign ministers will leave their deputies in session in Paris to work on these problems, and others.

Among the problems are those raised during consideration of a peace treaty for Italy, including the Italian-Yugoslavia border and Trieste, the question of colonies, reparations and the future of the Dodecanese islands.

In the negotiations for an Italian treaty draft the foreign ministers reached but two agreements. One was to refuse an Austrian request for return of the South Tyrol and the other was an agreement in principle on the future size of the Italian navy. They split, however, on the details of disposing of surplus Italian naval craft.

They did agree to ease the terms of the Italian armistice, but failed to achieve any agreement on Byrnes' proposal for a four-power pact to keep Germany disarmed for a quarter century or on the problem of bilateral treaties.

Russian objections prevented adoption of Byrnes' suggestion that a date—July 1 or July 15—be set for a 21-nation peace conference, originally scheduled for May 1 in Paris but postponed.

Conservatives Win Control In Japan

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO, May 16—Conservative Shigeru Yoshida, considered such a peace-monger by Japan's militarists that he was imprisoned at the start of the war, today became premier and quickly dominated an organizational session of the house of representatives.

His conservative supporters mustered a narrow margin to elect, on a straight party vote, the speaker and vice speaker shortly after Yoshida received an imperial command to form a new government.

The Liberal party—whose presidency Yoshida accepted yesterday—and the Progressives (both actually conservative) combined to elect Takekichi Miki speaker of the house and Konzaemon Kimura vice speaker. Miki is a Liberal and Kimura a Progressive and both are veteran politicians.

Yoshida, plunging into selection of his cabinet, was expected to retain the foreign minister's portfolio. Retiring Premier Kijuro Shidehara was reported slated for one of three ministries without portfolio, along with Takao Saito, veteran progressive leader, and Take-shige Ishiguro, who was named chief cabinet secretary.

Apparently reliable speculation indicated Yoshida was planning a conservative, elderly cabinet which strongly would reflect Shidehara's policies and the influence of the Liberal and Progressive parties.

Coal Firm Plans To Reforest Strip Land

LISBON, May 16—The Buckeye Coal Mining Corp. with extensive striping operations in Columbiana county, have completed the planting of 9,000 trees in an area in Wayne township. H. H. Pier, president, announced today.

The planting carried out through the Ohio Reclamation association, includes red pine, white pine and tulip trees for future reforestation.

The Ohio Reclamation association, of which the Buckeye Coal Mining Co. is a member, was set up by the coal strip mine operators of Ohio for the purpose of effecting an economic reclamation of its members' lands. By correct reforestation and timbering practices, employing the recommended method of successive cutting and planting, the Buckeye Co. anticipates a profitable return from the forestation use of its stripped acreage, Pierson stated.

Sanson, Firman and Russo were charged in a conspiracy indictment with selling sugar at above-ceiling prices to Byrd, using fraudulent stamps supplied by Russo.

Sheinbart was charged on five counts with selling 38,500 pounds of sugar above ceiling to Firman, in an individual indictment. Another conspiracy indictment accused Sheinbart and Blaie of selling 80,000 pounds to Firman at $2.75 over the $6 ceiling price, and charged that Firman and Russo resold this at greatly increased prices to Byrd, Wardenga and various merchants in Erie, Pa., and Dunkirk and Jamestown, N. Y.

The indictment against Kerestey, Wald and Barnes charged them with selling 130,500 pounds of sugar above ceilings, through use of 34,600 fraudulent stamps, from Nov. 1, 1945 to Feb. 14, 1946.

Mandel said Kerestey furnished the stamps to Wald, who delivered them to Barnes, manager of the Youngstown office of M. Rom & Sons Co. Inc., a Pittsburgh wholesale grocery firm. The assistant district attorney added that Barnes used fictitious names of various retail dealers in the Youngstown area to cover up the transactions.

Charges against the Erie and Cleveland defendants carry maximum penalties, upon conviction, of two years and $10,000 fine under conspiracy indictments, and one year and $5,000 on each count in the other indictments, Mandel said.

Charges against the three men from the Youngstown area carry maximum penalties, on conviction, of two years and $10,000 fine on conspiracy counts and one year and $5,000 on each of six other counts. Arraignment for all the defendants was set for May 29.

IDENTITY OF DEAD REMAINS QUESTIONABLE

Chartered Ship Plunges to Ground After Failure at Forced Landing

(By Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Va., May 16—Twenty-seven persons were killed today in the crash of a southbound chartered airliner which ran into trouble a few minutes after its takeoff from Byrd airport near Richmond and plunged into a rain-drenched stand of pine woods in a vain attempt to return to the field.

The twin-engine Viking airliner came to grief in the heavy overcast about 1:10 a. m., plowed through the trees and burned on the soggy banks of Doran creek only a few thousand yards from the airport.

The airliner left Newark, N. J. early last night for Atlanta. It put into Richmond and took off again about 12:30 a. m. in heavy weather. The ceiling at the airport was fluctuating between zero and 200 feet and visibility was one mile when she took off.

Contained 26
The CAA said the plane carried 24 passengers in addition to the pilot and co-pilot but 27 bodies were brought out of the woods from the crash and sent to five Richmond funeral homes. Identification was difficult but it appeared the victims were 21 men, three women and three children.

The pilot of the plane apparently was Dell Anderson. The CAA said the pilot reported himself as Anderson in contacts with its stations and in Los Angeles the airline said that if the ship was a Viking the pilot was Dell Anderson and the co-pilot was David Miner, both of them of Los Angeles.

An airline official said normally the operation had been in transporting merchant seamen from the east coast to the Gulf coast.

This fitted in with an identification card found in a charred wallet giving the name "Frederick J. Spargo, ensign, U. S. Maritime Service." The card showed Spargo born October 9, 1924 but gave no address.

Another identification appeared to be that of Jose Matterredona Zambrini whose passport was found in an unburned pocket of his charred coat.

Still Unidentified
The nationality of those killed could not be immediately learned. But there was a Spanish prayerbook, bearing the name of a Madrid firm, and papers making reference to the maritime service in Yugoslavia in the wreckage.

Bodies of the victims were brought out by horse and wagon and sent to Richmond funeral homes.

The Byrd airport reported the weather for the station was an indefinite 200-foot ceiling with visibility one mile.

County Police Sergeant H. W. Henshaw went into the crash area and counted 24 bodies, 20 in the wreckage and four more in the ground near the charred airliner. Most of the bodies were badly burned, he said, and there was a possibility only one could be readily identified.

The southbound plane, a DC-3, left Newark, N. J., early last night. Police found a passport in an unburned cockpit of a badly charred body bearing the name Jose Matterredona Zambrini. This, along with the muscular appearance of most of the bodies, led to the early belief the plane had been chartered by Mexican or other Latin American workers or athletes.

Richmond morticians set up a temporary morgue in the yard at the Whitlock farm.

Coal Firm Plans To Reforest Strip Land

LISBON, May 16—The Buckeye Coal Mining Co. with extensive stripping operations in Columbiana county, have completed the planting of 9,000 trees in an area in Wayne township. H. H. Pier, president, announced today.

The planting carried out through the Ohio Reclamation association, includes red pine, white pine and tulip trees for future reforestation. The Ohio Reclamation association, of which the Buckeye Coal Mining Co. is a member, was set up by the coal strip mine operators of Ohio for the purpose of effecting an economic reclamation of its members' lands. By correct forestry and timbering practices, employing the recommended method of successive cutting and planting, the Buckeye Co. anticipates a profitable return from the forestation use of its stripped acreage, Pierson stated.

FAIRFIELD, Calif., May 16—An army B-17 with eight persons aboard crashed on a hillside about three miles west of here early today, possibly killing some of the occupants.

The pilot and co-pilot, both critically injured, got out of the bombing plane and telephoned Fourth Air force headquarters at nearby Hamilton field that six other persons, some of them still alive, were trapped in the plane.

MIGHT AVERT RAIL STRIKE BY SEIZURES

Trainmen Hint that Action By Government Would Forestall Walkout

By JOHN B. OWEN
WASHINGTON, May 16—A hint from trainmen and engineers that federal seizure might forestall Saturday's scheduled nationwide railroad strike stirred wide speculation today.

Mr. Truman said the two chief figures in the coal dispute had told him they felt after overnight conferences with their associates that the coal negotiations held up to now had broken down completely and that further discussion was useless.

It was then, Mr. Truman said, Lewis and Charles O'Neill, official spokesman for the operators, will give their decision to Mr. Truman at 5:30 p. m. EST.

Mr. Truman announced his proposal to a hurriedly summoned news conference. He said Lewis and O'Neill both had agreed that their own efforts to settle the coal controversy had collapsed.

Announcement Follows Session
The announcement was made less than two hours after Mr. Truman conferred for 10 minutes with Lewis and O'Neill at the White House.

Mr. Truman said the two chief figures in the coal dispute had told him they felt after overnight conferences with their associates that the coal negotiations held up to now had broken down completely and that further discussion was useless.

Johnston said the exemption decision was reached in conjunction with A. F. Whitney, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen who with the engineers have called the strike as the climax to a wage dispute.

One Seizure Ended Threat
The Illinois Central is under technical operation of the office of defense transportation as the result of a previous strike threat.

Johnston would neither affirm nor deny that this was the reason for the exemption, nor would he explain what he meant by "safety measure."

The Smith-Connally War Labor Disputes act, however, provides penalties for strike interference with the operation of any facility under government possession.

Johnston and Whitney scheduled a third meeting with the operators (10 a. m. EST) after two sessions which the union chiefs said were fruitless.

Mr. Truman brought about the resumption of negotiations after a series of White House conferences on Tuesday.

The other three operating brotherhoods were to meet with the carriers later. They are taking a strike vote which, can not become effective for some time. But a walkout of the trainmen and engineers alone would tie rail transportation in knots. Fifteen non-operating rail unions also are seeking higher pay.

Both sides in the threatened strike are scheduled to report their progress to Mr. Truman tomorrow.

LEWIS, O'NEILL CALLED FOR 5:30 WHITE HOUSE MEETING

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 16—President Truman announced today he had asked John L. Lewis and the coal operators to submit their deadlocked contract negotiations to arbitration.

'They Find No Peace'

Big Four Session To Recess With Little Accomplished

PARIS, May 16—The foreign ministers of the Big Four, ready to take a 30-day recess for further study of the unsettled problems of peace, tackled the German question today in a last-minute effort to reach agreement on at least one issue.

U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, described by his associates as deeply discouraged by the failure of the conferees to reach any basic agreement during the three weeks of negotiations, was said to be convinced there was no other course except continued efforts to compromise the differences which have split the Western powers and Russia.

The ministers approved last night Byrnes' suggestion that the Council adjourn until June 15 and the conferees were ready to recess as soon as discussion of the German question is finished, probably today.

In recessing, the foreign ministers will leave unsettled the question of Austria, which the Russians flatly refused even to discuss; Trieste, which Britain and the United States insist must go to Italy while the Russians insist it must go to Yugoslavia; freedom of navigation on the Danube, which the Russians refuse to write into the Balkan peace treaties; and international freedom of commerce with Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

In the interim period from now until June 15 the foreign ministers will leave their deputies in session in Paris to work on these problems, and others.

Among the problems are those raised during consideration of a peace treaty for Italy, including the Italian-Yugoslavia border and Trieste; the question of colonies, operations, and the future of the Dodecanese islands.

In the negotiations for an Italian treaty draft the foreign ministers reached but two agreements. One was to refuse an Austrian request for return of the South Tyrol and the other was an agreement in principle on the future size of the Italian navy. They split, however, on the details of disposing of surplus Italian naval craft.

They did agree to ease the terms of the Italian armistice, but failed to achieve any agreement on Byrnes' proposal for a four-power pact to keep Germany disarmed for a quarter century or on the problem of bilateral treaties.

Russian objections prevented adoption of Byrnes' suggestion that a date—July 1 or July 15—be set for a 21-nation peace conference, originally scheduled for May 1 in Paris but postponed.

Dig, Brother, Dig

One of the overlooked misfortunes of the country is the way Victory Garden promotion stopped one season too soon. Of all the years since 1940 when self-interest justified the work required to become a part-time gardener, 1946 comes first. Yet in 1946 home-gardening is no longer the beneficiary of official promotion.

Carrots, tomatoes, potatoes, beans and their vegetable cousins will be needed this summer to replace agricultural commodities sent abroad to relieve famine. They will be needed far more by any available table of calculation than they were needed during the war years.

In 1946 a home garden will not be a patriotic gesture, which is what many of them were during wartime. It will be a down-to-earth expedient. All who have wondered what they personally could do about the world's food shortage have the answer available in their own back yards.

Dig, brother, dig. Dig to eat.

Politics With Human Sacrifice

The net effect of congressional action on selective service act extension is to stall new inductions. The "goats" are the men already in military service. There will be a dearth of replacements for them. The principle of equitable sacrifice has been shelved by legislative action which amounts to telling men already conscripted that it was their hard luck to be inducted too soon.

It is one more distressing aspect of the spirit of do-nothingness that has captured the people and their government at an instant in history when courage was needed. It is one more distressing symptom of the occupational disease of American politicians—the near-fatal affliction of yielding to the most clamorous minority of the moment, of trying to be all things to all men.

As every member of a draft board knows, exemption of teen-age youths from the Selective Service Act virtually means suspension of inductions. Together with other classes exempted, the induction reservoir is dry. This has been done in defiance of the unanimous judgment of the men responsible for national security. It has been done in defiance of the best judgment of thoughtful citizens, but in compliance with what a majority of congressmen believed to be prevailing public opinion. They have played a fateful game of politics with human sacrifice. The men who fought the war and the men still serving as conscripts will judge congressional do-nothingness for what it is worth.

More Power To the John L. Lewises?

The argument over United Mine Workers' proposal for a 7 percent payroll levy necessarily takes many forms. That is because it has many implications. The issue involves several fundamental principles.

The gravest implication in the proposal is that of giving a private organization power to levy taxes in competition with government. A payroll levy for the benefit of a union is no different in principle from a payroll levy for the benefit of government. Once established, the principle would be ever more widely applied. Levies could be imposed by transportation unions, by unions of handlers in coal yards and so on. The revenue available to private organizations from levies on all kinds of commodities could become comparable to that obtained by the government itself.

This vast income, derived ultimately from higher prices to consumers, could be used in any manner desired by its beneficiaries. "Welfare," the purpose mentioned by United Mine Workers, could mean anything from direct benefits to miners in need to indirect benefits as defined by union executives. Not so long ago, John L. Lewis, president of the union, decided that miners needed to advance a large sum of money to a political party. In the next presidential election, Mr. Lewis had turned against that party and was supporting the opposition. By his own admission, the miners' dues had been used to back the wrong horse. The miners themselves had nothing to say about it.

As an extension of syndicalism, authority to collect taxes from the public would further decrease the power of government and ownership relative to that of labor unions. Already it is manifest that a few strong union executives have the power of life and death over production. Given the power to impose levies on commodities, their power would become even greater than it is now, when great numbers of their fellow citizens already believe it has grown too great to be tolerated in a system of popular government.

The United Mine Workers and its aggressive president have demonstrated that they can cripple the nation by a strike. Their price for settling the strike is high, so high it raises the question of which would be worse—to endure the strike or the proposed settlement.

No Place For Spitework

Among the black eyes Congress is giving itself with some of the awkwardest fumbling in history is this hysterical handling of labor legislation.

The Senate, which had hemmed, hawed and fiddled for weeks, doing nothing at all, now has managed to let its pending labor bill get caught hopelessly in the log jam piling up against a July 1 adjournment date.

The misfortune is not the loss of the bill, which wasn't worth saving, but the loss of senatorial dignity in the presence of a troublesome problem. Labor legislation deserves the most skilled attention available in Congress.

It is not the place for spitework or hysteria, which is all that has been getting so far. The congressional problem is to temper and process principles now well established, but warped and distorted in legal forms which were contrived hysterically and hastily years ago by spiteworkers more interested in persecuting management than in helping labor unions.

There has been available to Congress for many months an excellent outline of clarifying and moderating action to ease the tension of industrial relations under badly-written laws making industrial harmony impossible. This outline was submitted to the Senate a year ago next month, sponsored by Senators Ball of Minnesota, Hatch of New Mexico and the then Senator Burton of Ohio. It represented the result of previous study and survey by a committee of management and labor representatives.

There was no spitework in it. It did not aim to penalize anyone, though labor leaders mistakenly construed it as an attack on their power. It was introduced, moreover, in an attitude of mutual helpfulness, which is more than can be said for any of the so-called labor bills passed or pending since then. They have shown Congress at its worst—a body of men too timid to legislate in the general interest at the possible expense of losing votes, too preoccupied with particular peevishness to concentrate on broad principles and so anxious to get even with a Caesar Petrillo or a John L. Lewis they are capable of throwing out the baby with the bath.

The Stars Say

For Friday, May 17

A SUDDEN spurt in the direction of unusual enterprise, with productive ideas and programs of large scope and importance, may be born of the stimulated energies, forces and faculties of planetary stimuli ruling this day. New, even radical ideas or projects, are accelerated and should reach sound progress, mainly by some co-operation of tacit, undercover or subtle agreements with influential persons or bodies.

However, too revolutionary, novel ideas, or reckless or irregular action might lead to loss or even accident or untoward events. Move prudently.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves spurred to sudden activities in some novel, unique or progressive effort in which high enterprise, initiative and strenuous handling may bring surprising returns, especially if supported by the tacit or undercover co-operation of influential bodies or persons.

It is also possible that a too radical or dramatic operation or undertaking might alienate these, cause sudden disruption or perhaps personal harm or adventure. Move with discretion.

A child born on this day may have much initiative and productive capacity, and in unusual lines, supported by secret bodies, but certain rash or erratic tendencies might prove disruptive or disintegrating.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Salt and Sleeplessness

BY HERMAN N. BUNDSEN, M.D.

THE body may be compared to a wonderfully equipped laboratory where the most complicated chemical reactions are carried out automatically. Starches are changed to sugar; the glands of internal secretion manufacture powerful drugs; the stomach secretes hydrochloric acid.

While life endures these and hundreds of other such processes continue endlessly and with an amazing precision. Once in a while, however, something in the long process of maintaining the body's chemical balance goes off and when it does you get trouble of one kind or another.

Salt Content

Studies made of the salt content of the brains of certain mental patients have disclosed an excessive amount of one of the component parts of salt, chloride. This discovery led doctors to wonder if ordinary nervousness might not be related to a similar, though less extreme condition.

It was found that certain patients who had been sleeping only an hour or two a night were greatly benefited within three weeks when they were given a diet low in salt, containing a considerable amount of leafy vegetables and potatoes, since the natural content of salt in these foods is limited.

More Relaxed

Of course, the human body must have some salt and this was supplied in the form of salt pills. It was found that, day by day, patients who were treated in this way became more and more relaxed, while formerly they were easily upset by slight emotional disturbances. They became less irritable and began to sleep eight hours a night and awake refreshed.

Some of the patients also noted that dreams which disturbed their sleep disappeared. Several also began to feel drowsy in the afternoon and began to experience the tiredness that comes from hard work. It would seem also that there was an improvement in the general mood of the patients and they were able to concentrate better.

Under Physician Of course, treatment of this sort must be carried out under the directions of a physician, because the body must have a certain amount of salt, and if there is too great a decrease in the intake, severe symptoms may result.

Furthermore, such treatment would not appear advisable in the summer months when salt is lost from the body in perspiration. Some salt is needed to avoid the symptoms of heat exhaustion.

Many people who suffer from sleeplessness get into the habit of taking sedative drugs and eventually this may lead to habit formation. Then, too, there are many things which may contribute to sleeplessness that can be simply eliminated.

Dig, Brother, Dig

One of the overlooked misfortunes of the country is the way Victory Garden promotion stopped one season too soon. Of all the years since 1940 when self-interest justified the work required to become a part-time gardener, 1946 comes first. Yet in 1946 home-gardening is no longer the beneficiary of official promotion.

Carrots, tomatoes, potatoes, beans and their vegetable cousins will be needed this summer to replace agricultural commodities sent abroad to relieve famine. They will be needed far more by any available table of calculation than they were needed during the war years.

In 1946 a home garden will not be a patriotic gesture, which is what many of them were during wartime. It will be a down-to-earth expedient. All who have wondered what they personally could do about the world's food shortage have the answer available in their own back yards.

Dig, brother, dig. Dig to eat.

Politics With Human Sacrifice

The net effect of congressional action on selective service act extension is to stall new inductions. The "goats" are the men already in military service. There will be a dearth of replacements for them. The principle of equitable sacrifice has been shelved by legislative action which amounts to telling men already conscripted that it was their hard luck to be inducted too soon.

It is one more distressing aspect of the spirit of do-nothingness that has captured the people and their government at an instant in history when courage was needed. It is one more distressing symptom of the occupational disease of American politicians—the near-fatal affliction of yielding to the most clamorous minority of the moment, of trying to be all things to all men.

As every member of a draft board knows, exemption of teen-age youths from the Selective Service Act virtually means suspension of inductions. Together with other classes exempted, the induction reservoir is dry. This has been done in defiance of the unanimous judgment of the men responsible for national security. It has been done in defiance of the best judgment of thoughtful citizens, but in compliance with what a majority of congressmen believed to be prevailing public opinion. They have played a fateful game of politics with human sacrifice. The men who fought the war and the men still serving as conscripts will judge congressional do-nothingness for what it is worth.

More Power To the John L. Lewises?

The argument over United Mine Workers' proposal for a 7 percent payroll levy necessarily takes many forms. That is because it has many implications. The issue involves several fundamental principles.

The gravest implication in the proposal is that of giving a private organization power to levy taxes in competition with government. A payroll levy for the benefit of a union is no different in principle from a payroll levy for the benefit of government. Once established, the principle would be ever more widely applied. Levies could be imposed by transportation unions, by unions of handlers in coal yards and so on. The revenue available to private organizations from levies on all kinds of commodities could become comparable to that obtained by the government itself.

This vast income, derived ultimately from higher prices to consumers, could be used in any manner desired by its beneficiaries. "Welfare," the purpose mentioned by United Mine Workers, could mean anything from direct benefits to miners in need to indirect benefits as defined by union executives. Not so long ago, John L. Lewis, president of the union, decided that miners needed to advance a large sum of money to a political party. In the next presidential election, Mr. Lewis had turned against that party and was supporting the opposition. By his own admission, the miners' dues had been used to back the wrong horse. The miners themselves had nothing to say about it.

As an extension of syndicalism, authority to collect taxes from the public would further decrease the power of government and ownership relative to that of labor unions. Already it is manifest that a few strong union executives have the power of life and death over production. Given the power to impose levies on commodities, their power would become even greater than it is now, when great numbers of their fellow citizens already believe it has grown too great to be tolerated in a system of popular government.

The United Mine Workers and its aggressive president have demonstrated that they can cripple the nation by a strike. Their price for settling the strike is high, so high it raises the question of which would be worse—to endure the strike or the proposed settlement.

No Place For Spitework

Among the black eyes Congress is giving itself with some of the awkward fumbling in history is its hysterical handling of labor legislation.

The Senate, which had hemmed, hawed and fiddled for weeks, doing nothing at all, now has managed to let its pending labor bill get caught hopelessly in the log jam piling up against a July 1 adjournment date.

The misfortune is not the loss of the bill, which wasn't worth saving, but the loss of senatorial dignity in the presence of a troublesome problem. Labor legislation deserves the most skilled attention available in Congress.

It is not the place for spitework or hysteria, which is all that it has been getting so far. The congressional problem is to temper and process principles now well established, but warped and distorted in legal forms which were contrived hysterically and hastily years ago by spiteworkers more interested in persecuting management than in helping labor unions.

There has been available to Congress for many months an excellent outline of clarifying and moderating action to ease the tension of industrial relations under badly-written laws making industrial harmony impossible. This outline was submitted to the Senate a year ago next month, sponsored by Senators Ball of Minnesota, Hatch of New Mexico and the then Senator Burton of Ohio. It represented the result of previous study and survey by a committee of management and labor representatives.

There was no spitework in it. It did not aim to penalize anyone, though labor leaders mistakenly construed it as an attack on their power. It was introduced, moreover, in an attitude of mutual helpfulness, which is more than can be said for any of the so-called labor bills passed or pending since then. They have shown Congress at its worst—a body of men too timid to legislate in the general interest at the possible expense of losing votes, too preoccupied with particular peevishness to concentrate on broad principles and so anxious to get even with a Caesar Petrillo or a John L. Lewis they are capable of throwing out the baby with the bath.

The Stars Say

For Friday, May 17

A SUDDEN spurt in the direction of unusual enterprise, with productive ideas and programs of large scope and importance, may be born of the stimulated energies, forces and faculties of planetary stimuli ruling this day. New, even radical ideas or projects, are accelerated and should reach sound progress, mainly by some co-operation of tacit, undercover or subtle agreements with influential persons or bodies.

However, too revolutionary, novel ideas, or reckless or irregular action might lead to loss or even accident or untoward events. Move prudently.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves spurred to sudden activities in some novel, unique or progressive effort in which high enterprise, initiative and strenuous handling may bring surprising returns, especially if supported by the tacit or undercover co-operation of influential bodies or persons.

It is also possible that a too radical or dramatic operation or undertaking might alienate these, cause sudden disruption or perhaps personal harm or adventure. Move with discretion.

A child born on this day may have much initiative and productive capacity, and in unusual lines, supported by secret bodies, but certain rash or erratic tendencies might prove disruptive or disintegrating.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Salt and Sleeplessness

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE body may be compared to a wonderfully equipped laboratory where the most complicated chemical reactions are carried out automatically. Starches are changed to sugar; the glands of internal secretion manufacture powerful drugs; the stomach secretes hydrochloric acid.

While life endures these and hundreds of other such processes continue endlessly and with an amazing precision. Once in a while, however, something in the long process of maintaining the body's chemical balance goes off and when it does you get trouble of one kind or another.

Salt Content

Studies made of the salt content of the brains of certain mental patients have disclosed an excessive amount of one of the component parts of salt, chloride. This discovery led doctors to wonder if ordinary nervousness might not be related to a similar, though less extreme condition.

It was found that certain patients who had been sleeping only an hour or two a night were greatly benefited within three weeks when they were given a diet low in salt, containing considerable amounts of leafy vegetables and potatoes, since the natural content of salt in these foods is limited.

More Relax

Of course, the human body must have some salt and this was supplied in the form of salt pills. It was found that, day by day, patients who were treated in this way became more and more relaxed, while formerly they were easily upset by slight emotional disturbances. They became less irritable and began to sleep eight hours a night and awake refreshed.

Some of the patients also noted that dreams which disturbed their sleep disappeared. Several also began to feel drowsy in the afternoon and began to experience the tiredness that comes from hard work. It would seem also that there was an improvement in the general mood of the patients and they were able to concentrate better.

Under Physician

Of course, treatment of this sort must be carried out under the direction of a physician, because the body must have a certain amount of salt, and if there is too great a decrease in the intake, severe symptoms may result.

Furthermore, such treatment would not appear advisable in the summer months when salt is lost from the body in perspiration. Some salt is needed to avoid the symptoms of heat exhaustion.

Many people who suffer from sleeplessness get into the habit of taking sedative drugs and eventually this may lead to habit formation. Then, too, there are many things which may contribute to sleeplessness that can be simply eliminated.

Urge Caution On Real Estate Loans

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, May 16.—Three speakers at the opening of the 55th convention of the Ohio Bankers association today urged bankers to use caution in making loans on real estate on a basis of present prices.

Howard G. Hudson of Wilmington, president of the association, asserted bankers should make a study of what would be a reasonable return on their investment in more settled times.

"The red lantern of danger must be observed by the banker who is tempted to make loans on real estate market values alone, without regard for the earning power of the land," said Warren Garst of the Home State bank, Jefferson, Ia. "And the same goes for the man who would borrow for real estate purposes."

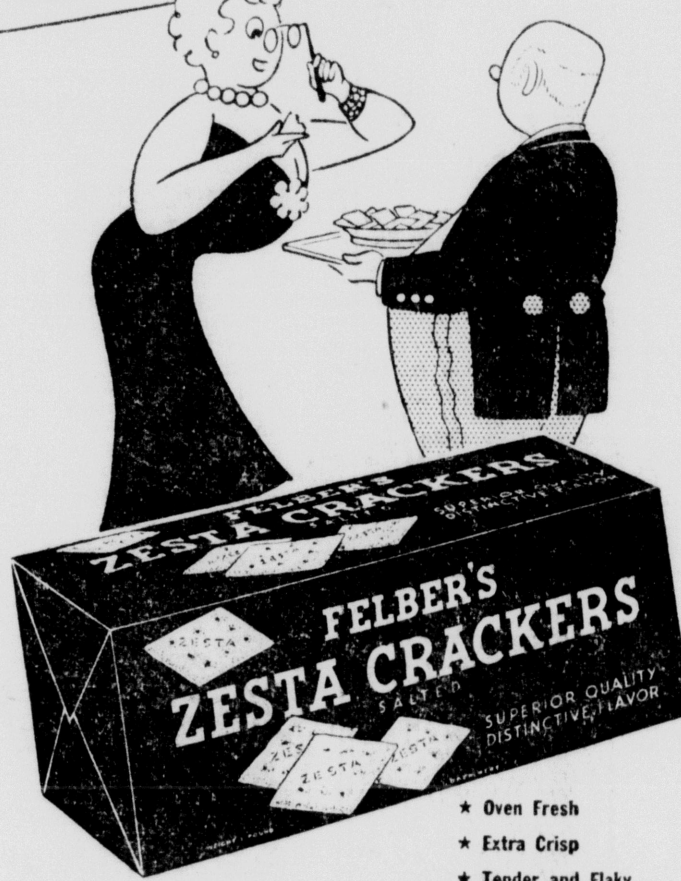

Garst also criticized bankers and farmers who carefully look at farm buildings and other current assets but pay no attention to enriching and conserving the soil.

Howard B. Smith, director of real estate and mortgage finance of the American Bankers association, asserted that both buyers and bankers must give attention to the more permanent factors of sound investment if trouble is to be avoided.

Miss Dorothy Lippiatt Weds Sebring Veteran At Church

An embankment of palms and ferns, interspersed with ivy vines in white containers, and a large bouquet of pink and white snapdragons and yellow daisies made a beautiful setting for the candlelight ceremony in which Miss Dorothy Lippiatt of R. D. Salem, and Henry E. Hutmacher of Sebring, exchanged their marriage vows at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday in the First Friends church.

Rev. Sherman Brantingham, pastor of the Winona Friends church, officiated in the double ring service.

A program of nuptial music was offered by Mrs. Harold Talbot. She also accompanied Mrs. Roger Zeigler, cousin of the bride, who sang "The World Is Waiting For the Sunrise," "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The bridal chorus from Lohengrin heralded the approach of the bride. The ushers, Erwin Norly of North Georgetown, and Philip Stevens of Salem, led the bridal procession, followed by Mrs. Philip Stevens, sister of the bride, matron of honor. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. They met the groom and his best man, Pat Solomon, at the altar.

The bride's lovely gown was created of satin and net. It was fashioned with a satin bodice, sweetheart neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and the full net skirt over tulle, applied in satin flowers, ended in a train. Her finger-ring veil fell from a lace tiara. She carried a bouquet of white roses and white sweetpeas showered with maiden hair fern.

Mrs. Stevens appeared in a pink net gown over tulle, with wide bands of insertion. She wore a short pink net veil held in place by a pink flower. Her bouquet was of yellow roses, pink sweetpeas and maiden hair fern tied with a large bow of white ribbon.

Mrs. Lippiatt, mother of the bride, was dressed in navy blue with grey accessories, while the groom's mother, Mrs. Hutmacher, wore a navy blue dress and white accessories. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

Approximately 75 guests were entertained at a reception at the bride's home. The refreshment table was graced with a tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lippiatt of R. D. Salem.

Mr. Hutmacher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hutmacher of Sebring, is a discharged veteran. He is employed by the Weybeck's Lumber Co., Alliance.

The couple left last night on a honeymoon trip. For going away the bride wore a grey suit with blue accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Hutmacher will make their home in Sebring.

Flying Lab To Test Cosmic Ray Effects

WASHINGTON, May 16—Col. A. E. Key of Meridian, Miss., will pilot a B-29 flying laboratory which will test cosmic ray effects from the Canadian border to the equator, the National Geographic Society announced today.

Starting next Monday from Wright field, Ohio, the plane will make four round trips. It will stop at Eglin field, Fla., and the Canal Zone.

At altitudes ranging from one to seven miles crew members will measure intensity of the cosmic rays and their effect on undisclosed chemicals and metals which may be used in development of long range guided missiles.

The army air forces, the geographic society and the bartol research foundation will share in the experiments.

Split In Beaver Rural School District Looms

LISBON, May 16. Possibilities of a split in the Beaver Rural school district looms as a result of the defeat of the $305,000 bond issue at the primaries.

County Supt. W. E. Roberts said today that voters of St. Clair and Madison townships, who favored the special issue and the erection of four grade school buildings in the district, are circulating petitions which will be presented to the county board of education asking permission to withdraw from the Beaver Rural district which also includes Elkrun and Middleton townships.

Bond issues for construction of new schools have been submitted in the district five times in the past few years and voted down, although both St. Clair and Madison township have favored the issues.

Roberts said the school building at Calcutta in St. Clair township has been condemned and will be closed at the end of this school year, and that patrons there favor going ahead with their own school program.

Thousands of Cars Rot Away At Army Depot

standing idle for months, without so much as a strip of canvas to protect them from the elements, thousands of Army passenger cars, jeeps and motorcycles are reported rotting away at the Atlanta (Ga.) Ordnance Depot. There are so many that they are no longer counted individually, but by carload lots—depot officers estimating the total variously from 25,000 to 41,000. Photo above shows Army sedans rusting in the sun.

At right are apparently endless columns of jeeps in the same fix. Deteriorating conditions include vehicle parked mud-deep in mud and water; rusting on flat tires; vehicles blocked up to prevent tires from rotting; windows missing and no substitute installed to keep rain off upholstery; and rust eating away at cars whose speedometers show only 4000 miles run off.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen

Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FAST-TEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour, checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FAST-TEETH at any drug store.

Thousands of Cars Rot Away At Army Depot

Standing idle for months, without so much as a strip of canvas to protect them from the elements, thousands of Army passenger cars, jeeps and motorcycles are reported rotting away at the Atlanta (Ga.) Ordnance Depot. There are so many that they are no longer counted individually, but by carload lots—depot officers estimating the total variously from 25,000 to 41,000. Photo above shows Army sedans rusting in the sun.

At right are apparently endless columns of jeeps in the same fix. Deteriorating conditions include vehicle parked run-deep in mud and water; rusting on flat tires; vehicles not blocked up to prevent tires from rotting; windows missing and no substitute installed to keep rain off upholstery; and rust eating away at cars whose speedometers show only 4000 miles run off.

Minimum Yearly Pay Is Steelworker Goal

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 16.—CIO President Philip Murray says Americans are entitled to a minimum guaranteed annual wage and that his United Steelworkers union will demand that kind of pay in 1947 contract negotiations.

"It is the opinion of your officers that the steel industry can pioneer in the field of minimum guaranteed wages," Murray told the Steelworkers' third biennial convention yesterday.

The convention passed a resolution recommending that officers of the union develop "appropriate proposals" on a minimum annual wage to be negotiated with employers.

Murray told newsmen that in view of the resolution, the Steelworkers would include such a pay demand in negotiations next fall for a 1947 contract. The union's current contract expires February 15, 1947.

LEWIS, O'NEILL

to expire May 25, only eight working days remain before the menace of another shutdown—after 42 days of idleness.

Much depended today on O'Neill's explanation of the operators' rejection of seven per cent payroll levy Lewis demanded to create the welfare fund.

After an earlier conference between O'Neill and Lewis at the executive mansion last week, the White House announced the operators had endorsed the principle of such a fund.

Thus their rejection yesterday was known to have led to some confusion among the President's own advisers.

It also led Government Conciliators Edward P. McGrady and Paul W. Fuller to call an indefinite recess in the negotiations.

Lewis has refused to make known his wage and hour demands until the welfare and other items are accounted for.

The UMW made the same union-controlled health and welfare fund demand upon the anthracite operators at negotiations in New York yesterday, but without specifying how it should be raised. These contract parleys cover 75,000 Pennsylvania hard coal miners whose notice of intention to strike in the absence of a settlement expires May 30.

The break in the soft goal negotiations came a few hours before Mr. Truman summoned Lewis and O'Neill to a late-afternoon conference yesterday.

After that session, White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said there was "no progress" to report.

There are 27 different Silver lakes in 22 different counties in Michigan.

MAY LIFT AGE BAN FOR DRAFT RELIEF

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The army has asked President Truman to direct the drafting of men between 25 and 29 years old. The request was made because of a prospective replacement shortage resulting from the stop-gap revision of the Selective Service act, a war department official said today.

He said the President might act today. Officials have estimated that the existing pool of men in the 25-29 age group totals only about 15,000.

The army will continue after June 30 to discharge men with two years of service or a point score of 40, but "can make no promises" as to reducing the release requirements to 18 months, the official said, adding that the demobilization program will be continued as proposed in January by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, pending further action on the draft by congress.

President Truman halted the drafting of men over 25 following the surrender of Japan, and officials said another order from the White House to selective service is necessary to lift the ban.

Child Killed Shortly After Soldier-Dad Dies

PORTSMOUTH, May 16.—Only a few hours after her soldier father's body was shipped here from First Oglethorpe, Ga., three-year-old Carolyn Sue Hill was struck and killed by an automobile in front of her home yesterday. Sgt. Clarence Hill, the child's father, was shot Saturday in Chattanooga, Tenn., by a civilian policeman, Carolyn Sue's grandfather, Richard Hill said.

LEWIS, O'NEILL

to expire May 25, only eight working days remain before the menace of another shutdown—after 42 days of idleness.

Much depended today on O'Neill's explanation of the operators' rejection of seven per cent payroll levy Lewis demanded to create the welfare fund.

After an earlier conference between O'Neill and Lewis at the executive mansion last week, the White House announced the operators had endorsed the principle of such a fund.

Thus their rejection yesterday was known to have led to some confusion among the President's own advisers.

It also led Government Conciliator Edward F. McGrady and Paul W. Fuller to call an indefinite recess in the negotiations.

Lewis has refused to make known his wage and hour demands until the welfare and other items are accounted for.

The UMW made the same union-controlled health and welfare fund demand upon the anthracite operators at negotiations in New York yesterday, but without specifying how it should be raised. These contract parleys cover 75,000 Pennsylvania hard coal miners whose notice of intention to strike in the absence of a settlement expires May 30.

The break in the soft goal negotiations came a few hours before Mr. Truman summoned Lewis and O'Neill to a late-afternoon conference yesterday.

After that session, White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said there was "no progress" to report.

There are 27 different Silver lakes in 22 different counties in Michigan.

MAY LIFT AGE BAN FOR DRAFT RELIEF

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The army has asked President Truman to direct the drafting of men between 25 and 29 years old. The request was made because of a prospective replacement shortage resulting from the stop-gap revision of the Selective Service act, a war department official said today.

He said the President might act today. Officials have estimated that the existing pool of men in the 25-29 age group totals only about 15,000.

The army will continue after June 30 to discharge men with two years of service or a point score of 40, but "can make no promises" as to reducing the release requirements to 18 months, the official said, adding that the demobilization program will be continued as promised in January by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, pending further action on the draft by congress.

President Truman halted the drafting of men over 25 following the surrender of Japan, and officials said another order from the White House to selective service is necessary to lift the ban.

Child Killed Shortly After Soldier-Dad Dies

PORTSMOUTH, May 16.—Only a few hours after her soldier father's body was shipped here from Port Oglethorpe, Ga., three-year-old Carolyn Sue Hill was struck and killed by an automobile in front of her home yesterday. Sgt. Clarence Hill, the child's father, was shot Saturday in Chattanooga, Tenn., by a civilian policeman, Carolyn Sue's grandfather, Richard Hill, said.

FELLER TO OPPOSE SENATORS IN QUEST OF THIRD VICTORY

Gromek, Harder Sparkle As Tribe Cops Two From Mackmen

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, May 16.—Blazing Ebb Feller will attempt to extend his personal winning streak and the Cleveland Indians' string of triumphs to three straight today in the opener of a three-game series with the invading Washington Nationals.

Mel Harder, veteran curveball artist, and Steve Gromek, imposter first 146 victories in impressive fashion yesterday by handing the Philadelphia Athletics a double shutout. Harder scattered six bingles in carving a 3 to 0 victory and Gromek hurled a 5 to 0 four-hit triumph in the twin bill nightcap.

Harder gained the 213th victory of his 19-year American league career in his first start of the season as he stifled A's scoring threats in three innings.

Keltner Sparks Rally
Ken Keltner continued his recent batting spree to spark the Tribe to its three-run margin. Keltner's single, a walk to Gene Woodling and one-basers by Manager Lou Boudreau and Frank Hayes accounted for two runs off Jack Knott in the fourth frame.

The Tribe third baseman doubled in the seventh and completed the circuit on a sacrifice and Dutch Meyer's long fly.

Gromek aided his cause with a pair of safeties in the second contest, but Hank Edwards, clubbing rookie of Norwalk, O., capped batting honors with a two-run homer and two singles in four trips.

Bobo Newsum was shelled from the mound in the second inning when the Indians blasted five hits for three runs. Edwards singled to open the frame and scored on Keltner's two-bagger. Singles by Meyer, Gromek and George Case plated two more runs.

Southpaw Mickey Haefner was slated to oppose Feller in today's contest.

PLAN HAWAII TRIP FOR OSU SWIMMERS

Peppe said he would take Free Stylers Halo Hirose and Jack Hill, Breast Stroker Jim Counselman, Back Stroker Dick Fetterman and Diver Miller Anderson on the trip. Another swimmer may be added to the list.

The Ohioans, who won the Big Ten, NCAA and National AAU indoor titles this year, will return to this country in time for the National AAU outdoor meet at San Francisco Aug. 1-4.

Lee Savold Scores K. O. Over Garner In Second

AKRON, May 16.—Falling fighters peppered the canvas in every bout at the Akron armory last night as Lee Savold, blonde batter of Paterson, N. J., flattened Bob Garner of Louisville, Ky., in the second round of a scheduled 10-round headliner.

Savold, 199, floored Garner twice with a double-barreled attack in the second frame before knocking out the 179-pound Kentuckian at two minutes of the round. A crowd of 2,147 contributed $4,099, Promoter Bob Heath reported.

"CARDS NO CINCH TO COP PENNANT", SAYS CINCY PILOT

McKechnie Impressed By Dodgers; Lauds Play of His Own Team

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 16.—Deacon Bill McKechnie of the Cincinnati Reds is another member of the "Knockdown the Favorite Club" who doesn't believe the St. Louis Cardinals are going to cake walk to the National league pennant.

"They haven't proved to me they're that kind of club," observed the bespectacled veteran, whose Reds dumped the Cards in both ends of a doubleheader last Sunday. "I never did think so, not even when they were counting on Johnny Beazley and Ernie White as starting pitchers."

"Now they have released White and Beazley doesn't figure. Their pitching hasn't been all it was supposed to be. I can't understand how they let White go, not after the reports I got out there Sunday. They're a good club, certainly, but no runaway in this league."

McKechnie had seen Brooklyn only briefly but the Dodgers impressed him on their run-making ability and he agreed with most observers that the Chicago Cubs were going to have a very tough time repeating their 1945 pennant victory.

Reds Kick Dope Bucket

Bill's own Redlegs have been up-setting the predictions. They have been getting fine pitching from Joe Beggs, Ed Heusser, Nate Andrews, Bucky Walters and Ewell Blackwell, the ex-GI who has been beamed as another Feller.

Grady Hatton, another former serviceman who picked up a $25,000 bonus for signing his first professional baseball contract has been playing like the rookie-of-the-year.

"Hatton has been coming through nicely," said the Cincinnati skipper.

In Second Baseman Lonnie Frey and Shortstop Eddie Miller, McKechnie has one of the best, if not the best, double play combinations in the league.

McKechnie is particularly high on his catching with Ray Lamanno and Ray Mueller dividing the heavy duty. He finally snapped Mueller's consecutive game string to give Lamanno a chance and the husky received has justified his action with a 300 plus batting average.

Acquisition of Max West from Boston solved the troublesome left field problem and Mike McCormick and Al Libke have been taking care of the other garden jobs.

Lee Savold Scores K. O. Over Garner In Second
AKRON, May 16.—Falling fighters peppered the canvas in every bout at the Akron armory last night as Lee Savold, blonde battler of Paterson, N. J., flattened Bob Garner of Louisville, Ky., in the second round of a scheduled 10-round headliner.

Savold, 199, floored Garner twice with a double-barreled attack in the second frame before knocking out the 170-pound Kentuckian at two minutes of the round. A crowd of 2,147 contributed $4,099, Promoter Bob Heath reported.

"CARDS NO CINCH TO COP PENNANT", SAYS CINCY PILOT

McKernie Impressed By Dodgers; Lauds Play of His Own Team

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 16.—Deacon Bill McKernie of the Cincinnati Reds is another member of the "Knockdown the Favorite Club" who doesn't believe the St. Louis Cardinals are going to cake walk to the National league pennant.

"They haven't proved to me they're that kind of club," observed the bespectacled veteran, whose Reds dumped the Cards in both ends of a doubleheader last Sunday. "I never did think so, not even when they were counting on Johnny Beazley and Ernie White as starting pitchers."

"Now they have released White and Beazley doesn't figure. Their pitching hasn't been all it was supposed to be. I can't understand how they let White go, not after the reports I got out there Sunday. They're a good club, certainly, but no runaway in this league."

McKernie had seen Brooklyn only briefly but the Dodgers impressed him on their run-making ability and he agreed with most observers that the Chicago Cubs were going to have a very tough time repeating their 1945 pennant victory.

Reds Kick Dope Bucket
Bill's own Redlegs have been up-setting the predictions. They have been getting fine pitching from Joe Beggis, Ed Heusser, Nate Amos, Bucky Walters and Ewell Blackwell, the ex-GI who has been booked as another Feller.

Grady Hatton, another former serviceman who picked up a $25,000 bonus for signing his first professional baseball contract has been playing like the rookie-of-the-year.

"Hatton has been coming through nicely," said the Cincinnati skipper.

In Second Baseman Lonnie Frey and Shortstop Eddie Miller, McKernie has one of the best, if not the best, double play combinations in the league.

McKernie is particularly high on his catching with Ray Lamanno and Ray Mueller dividing the heavy duty. He finally snapped Mueller's consecutive game string to give Lamanno a chance and the husky reliever has justified his action with a 300 plus batting average.

Acquisition of Max West from Boston solved the troublesome left field problem and Mike McCormick and Al Likke have been taking care of the other garden jobs.

Indians Send Podgajny Back to Baltimore Club

CLEVELAND, May 16.—The Cleveland Indians announced today they had sold Johnny Podgajny, right hander purchased from the Baltimore Orioles last winter, back to the International league club.

Mainly a relief hurler, the talkative pitcher won 20 games for the Orioles last season. He had been used only a few times this season by the Indians.

BOYLES COLUMN
By HAL BOYLE

BERLIN, May 11—Switzerland has all but killed the black market in watches in Germany. The days when American soldiers could sell their "Mickey Mouse" timepieces for $1,000 are over. Too many have flooded in across the Swiss borders.

The chief customers were always the Russians, and it used to be a stockiest among GI's here to say: "Let us call up the Soviet embassy and see what time it is."

But the best joke concerns the Yank who sold a sundial to a Russian. They met one morning in downtown Berlin, and Ivan immediately asked Joe: "Wanta sell your watch?"

"I don't have a watch," Joe answered.

Ivan proudly unfurled his sleeve. "Look," he said, "I got four."

There they were, too, ticking from his wrist almost to his elbow. Joe took a quick glance at the nearest watch and saw that it was 11 o'clock.

He held up stick he had been swinging and said: "Ivan, I can tell time by this stick—and I don't have to wind it."

"Watch me," said Joe. He stuck his stick in the ground and saw where the shadow would fall.

Then he drew a circle and numbered it around from one to 12, being careful to put the figure 11 where he knew the shadow would fall.

He squinted up at the bright sun and then placed the point of the stick in the center of the circle.

Ivan watched in wonderment as Joe traced the shadow across with his hand and announced: "My sun stick says it is 11 o'clock. What time you got?"

Ivan inspected his four watches critically, and answered in an impressed voice: "Eleven o'clock. Say, that's a good watch. I'll give you a thousand marks for it."

Joe handed him the stick, and walked away a hundred bucks richer, hoping the sun would go behind a cloud until he got a few blocks away from Ivan.

Cigarettes are still the best all around currency in the shattered Reich, but they are slowly falling in value, too.

They formerly brought $200 a carton or better. Now the price ranges from $100 to $150.

Two factors have influenced this. One is the steady drain of surplus marks from German hands through a year of fantastic prices. They are running out of money. The other is the arrival from America of increasing quantities of cigarettes, shipped here on order to soldiers and civilians by American tobacco companies.

But food and liquor prices still soar. Cognac costs $40 a bottle, real coffee $80 a pound.

Until world-wide shortages abate, Berlin will remain the chief market in human misery.

Officers here have an interesting nickname for the tear-starting, stomach-quaking Spanish brandy they sometimes get in their monthly liquor ration.

They call it "Franco" revenge.

The Truth About That Explosion

For weeks Homer Bentley has tried to uproot that big stump in his hayfield... with team and tractor. Finally he succeeds—breaks a score of windows round about, and frightens the neighbors half to death!

"All I used," apologizes Homer, "was a couple of small sticks of dynamite, like you should."

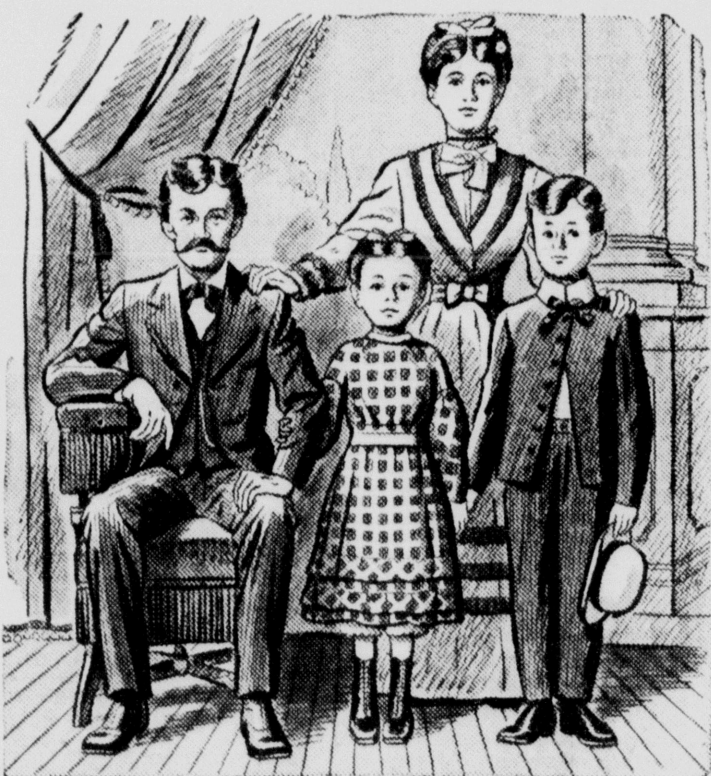

"That was no two small sticks of dynamite," Judge Cunningham says severely—and it finally comes out that Homer got so cussed mad at that everlasting stump, he'd planted a charge of TNT beneath its roots.

Reminds you of all the excuses human beings use to cover up bad judgment. Like the "two-beer alibi." When somebody gets into trouble, and blames it on "a couple of beers," you can be mighty sure they are covering up the truth.

From where I sit, a moderate beverage like beer is a better way of keeping out of trouble than getting into it.

NOT ON YOUR TINTYPE!

Grandma looks calm and collected as she poses for posterity, but she wasn't—not on your tintype! Getting her family ready for this picture was a long, weary business.

The day this photo was snapped, Grandma was up at dawn, wrestling with the old wood stove, coaxing the kettle to boil, cooking breakfast. And the day before, she ironed the mountain of clothes that had needed such hard scrubbing. The day before that—

But that was Grandma's life. She didn't know any other kind. Her way of housekeeping took lots of time, lots of elbow grease. In Grandma's gayest dreams she never imagined the time would come when a woman would have dozens of electric servants daily for the cost of a bar of soap.

Electric service—ready and willing around the clock and calendar—is a modern miracle Grandma missed by being born too soon. But electrical dependability (and cheapness, too) didn't happen by accident. Not on your tintype! They're the result of plenty of hard work and practical experience on the part of your neighbors who operate this company.
